CHAIN OF TRAGEDIES Recalled by Death of Miss Bertha

Belistein at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 10.-It develops that a young woman known as Miss Olga Miller, who died in a local hospital on May 21, was Miss Berthn Bellstein of Allegheny, Pa. Severni years ago she shot and killed her mother. This was followed by the suicide of Miss Belisteln's hrother and uncle and her own attempt at self-destruction.

After her recovery the young woman, according to the story related here, was conflued in an asylum for the insane, from which institution she esenped last October. It is strigd that she went to Chicago and finally reached Los Angeles.

A visit from Richard L. Hnrdin, a traveling book agent from Kentucky, shortly before her death, led to his arrest on suspicion of having administered some drug that hustened her end. Hardin, however, was clenred at from tumor on the hrain.

CHAPTER XIV .- Continued. other end of the platform to apeak to some of the atudents. I followed Plekeiling rather reluctantly to where the companions of his travels were pacing to and fro in the erisp morning air.

As soon as Pickering had got me well under way in conversation with Taylor, he excused himself hurrledly and went off, as I assumed, to be sure the statton agent had received orders for attaching the private car to the Chleago express. Taylor proved to be a superclinous person.-I believe they call him Chilly Billy at the Metropolitan club,-and our efforts to converse were pathetleally unfruilful. The two ladles slood by, making no concealment of their impatience. Their eyes were upon the girls from St. Agatha's on the other platform whom they could see beyond me. I had jumped the conversation from ludiana farm values to the recent disorders in Bulgarla, which interested me more, when Mra. Taylor, ignoring me, spoke abruptly to her sister.

"That's she—the one in the gray coat, talking to the clergyman. She came a moment ago in the carriage." "The one with the umbrella?

thought you sald-"

Mrs. Taylor glanced at her sister warningly, and they both looked at me. Then they detached themselves and moved away. There was some one on the farther platform whom they wished to see, and Taylor, not understanding their maneuver-he was real ly anxious, I think, not to be left alone with me-atarted down the platform after them, I following Mrs. Taylor and her sister walked to the end of 'the platform and looked across, n bistoss away, to where Stoddard stood talking to the girl I had already theard described as wearing a gray coat and earrying an nubrella.

The girl in gray crossed the track quickly and addressed the two women cordially. Taylor's back was to her and he was growing eloquent in a mild well bred way over the duliness of our statesmen in not seeing the advantages that would accrue to the United States in fostering our shipping indus itry. His wife, her sister and the girl in gray were so near that I could hear idalnly what they were saying. They were referring apparently to the girl's refusal of an invitation to accompany them to California.

"So you can't go-lt's too bad! We had hoped that when you really saw us on the way you would reient," said Mrs. Taylor.

"Bul think of the rose garlens that are walting for us out there!" said the other lady. They were showing her the deference that elderly women always have for pretty girls.

"Alas, and again alas", exclaimed Olivia. "Please don't make it harder for me than necessary. Itut I gave my promise a year ago to spend these holldays in Cincinnati." She ignored me wholly and after shaking bands with the ladies returned to the other platform 1 wondered whether she was overlooking Taylor on purpose to cut me.

Taylor was still at his lecture on the needs of our American merchant marine when Picketing passed hurrledly. crossed the Irack and hegan speaking carneatly to the girl in gray.

"The American flag should command the seas. What we need is not more battleships but more freight car-rlers-" Taylor was saying. But I was watching Offivia Gladys Armstrong. In a long skirt, with her halr eaught up under a gray toque that matched her coat perfectly, she was not my Olivia of the tam-o'-shanter, who had pursued the rabblt; nor yet the unsophisticated school girl, who had suffered my idlotle babble; nor again, the dreamy rapt organist of the chipel. She was a grown woman with at least 20 summers to her credit, and there was about her an air of knowing the world, and of not being at all a person one would make foolish speechis to. She spoke to Pickering gravely. Once ahe smiled dolefully and shook her head, and I vaguely strove to reotentier where I had acen that look iu ber eyes hefere. Her gold beads. which I had once carried in my pocket, were clasped tight about the close colfor of her dress; and I was glad, very slad, that I had ever touched anything that belonged to her.

Who was Olivia Glady Armstrong and what was Arthur l'ickering's business with her? And what was it she quite capable of snobblng me if anubhad said to me that evening when I had found her playing on the chapel. ergen? So much happened that day that I had almost forgotten, and, indeed, I had tried to forget that I made a fool of mysolf for the edilication of Agntha's, Annandaic: Their manners an amusing little school girl. "Then are beyond criticism, and an affable you prefer to Ignore the first time I discretion is one of their most samiraever saw you," she had said; but if I ble traits.

had thought of it at all it had been | with righteous self-contempt. Or, 1 may have flattered my vanity with the reflection that she had eyed me-her hero, perhaps-with wistful admiration across the wall.

Meanwhile the Chleago express oared into Annandale and the private was attached. Taylor watched he trainmen with the coot interest of n man for whom the proceeding had no novelty, while he continued to dilate upon the nation's commercial opportunities. I turned perforce, and walked with him back toward the station, where Mrs. Taylor and her sister were talking to the conductor.

Pickering came running across the platform with several telegrams in his

The ladlea entered the car and I Needs of American Shlipping when he was so utterly dullgot back to New York.

"I dldn't know they ever grew wa so fast-in a day and a night!"

I was glad I remembered the num her of beads in her chain, the item seemed at once to Lecome Important "It's the air, I suppose. It's praised by excellent critics," she laughed.

"But you are going to an ampler ether, a diviner air. You have attained the beatific state and at once take flight. If they confer perfection like an academic degree at St. Ag atha's, then-"

I had nover felt so stupidly helpless In my life. There were a thousand things I wished to any to her; there were countless questions I wished to ask; but her calmness and polse were disconcerting. Her eyes met minc easily; their axure depths puzzled me, She was almost, but not quite, some one I had seen before, and It was not my woodland Ollvin. Her eyes, the sofe curve of her check, the light in her halr-but the memory of another tlme, another place, another girl, lured only to baffle me.

She laughed-a little murmuring "I'll uever tell If you won't," she sald. "Itut I don't see how that helps me with you?

"It certainly does not! That is a until he had shown his hand fully much more serious matter, Mr. Glenarm.

I Make an Engagement.

The aouth bound train was now due In ten minutes. A few atudents had queer!" boarded the Chicago train, but a greater number still walted on the farther platform. They Enter Into a Pact That Results Quicker Facts Regarding Negotiations Now in Progress Are Published, the Better it Will Be For Ali.

Tokyo, June 7 .- The leading papers here are silent on the question of de manding an indemnity for the so-called bombarding of Japanese establish menta in San Francisco,

Reparation for the damage inflicted and punishment for the culpilts is expected, and it is believed that the gov ernment is taking proper steps in the

Though the public here is irritated at the sardiness displayed in effecting a solution of the difficulty, opinion has not yet reached the stage of advocat ing an appeal to a hostile demonstration in any form. It is true however, that popular indignation has reached a degree never before witnessed in the history of Japan's relations with the l'nited States. It is thought by influential Japanese that the quicker the facts regarding the negotiations now in progress here and in Washington are published the better it will be for all concerned, as a stage has now been reached when it may prove dangerous to keep the people in auspense or ignorance of what is being done.

An experienced diplomat, who was a protege of Marquis Ito and is a promineut figure in national affairs, said:

"America is the last country with which I expected complications with Japan. Traditional friendship of the two nations uniformly maintained by the government at Washington make me almost hesitate to believe that an anti Jajoanese septiment exists in I'nele Sam's territory, though the unfortunate occurrences stand unassall ahle.

"Itut before forming a final Judge ment in the present in tance it is atsolutely necessary to hear in inlind that as in America the autonomy of the various states is jeulously guarded and the slightest infringement or interference by the national authorities is deeply resented.

"Consequently the federal government la ln a most delicate positien

"Fortunately, the present chief executive of the United States is a wonderful personality. Judging by his speeches and writings, he night he called the incarnation of the principles of Bushblo. There is no doubt that he Is resolute enough to cut this Gorlin knot.

"The Japanese cause in the present instance is right, throughout, beyond the shadow of a doubt. That is a feet impossible to ascape the enlighten if judgement of a personage like President Itoosevelt.

'I confidentially expect that justice will be meted out, and the sooner this action in the matter is unide known the hotter."

THE PRINCE AND THE GENIE.

Happlly for Both. Prince Mohamid was sad. And well he inight be, for the beautiful I'rincess Corlsande had refused, for the eighth time, to marry him. So you cannot wonder that he was mouraful. Slowly and reflectively he gazed down into the dark waters that bathed the base of the high cliff by which the royal castle stood. All at once he heard a rushing of wind behind him. Turning, he saw a horrlile glant of limenso size brandishing a great club.

"Well, who are you?" demanded the prince, when he had recovered somewhat from his asionishment.

"I am a genle!" thundered the glant, In tones that rumbled long after he had spoken.

'I am minded to be your friend. Do you want the Princess Corlsande for your hilde" 'By the beard of the prophet I do:'

How Twenty-One Ships Made Seven Lines of Five Each.

At the beginning of the Spanish-American war the intelligence reached t'ula that seven lines of American hattleships were lying off Key West, there being live ships in every line. The Spaniards jumped at the conclusion that, since seven tim s five are 35, there were 35 shtps at the place liut there were really only 21, as shown in our illustration. Can any of our readers show the greatest numher of straight lines that can be fo med by these 21 men-of war, with five ships in every line? The ships must, of course, he regarded as mere points. There are several ways of obtaining the maximum number of scenes, habits and characteristics of early Indian life, emphasizing them as if they were absolute and permanent combitions and traits adapted and peculiar to the Indians, thus presenting a formidable obstacle and hinfrance to their absorption into the civilization of the country.

What may be the ultimate purpose or motive, if there be any, on the part of the authorities for so doing we will not endeavor at this time to discover. It seems to us to be a fact, however, that the "loaning" of a large or small assembly of Indians from the reservations as exhibits at expositions, fairs and private enterprises, together with implements. relics and so-called curios, which may or may not have been a part of the paraphermalia of Indian life, do not, and cannot, in any way contribute in the least toward the one purpose only worthy of considerationviz: the bringing of the Indian into the civilization by which he is surrounded. On the contrary, it seems to us apparent that the practice is contradictory of the declared intention of the government to aid as best it can the complete separation of the Indian from everything pertaining to his former degraded and unprofitable life. So, as men progress step Spanish prince "Alfonso Pio Cristino by step to higher things their backs are turned upon the lower planes of Eduardo!" The boys will probably existence where they gladly leave all things pertaining thereto. As man in his advancement must take on the cares and responsibilities incident to his progress, so he should be left unincumbered of things belonging to the dead past.

The Indian will have quite enough burdens to carry in the work which hes before him while endeavoring to adapt himself to the better conditions to which civilization invites him without being handicapped with a mass making schemes, but young Jay Gould of worthless truck gathered from an unfruitful past. Those who know the Indian as a man are aware of the fact that he has no design to dwell upon or live over the scenes and incidents of his past existence, but is ready and willing to forget them while preparing himself for the higher and better life that awnits him. Let us, therefore, give him all possible aid in the laudable work of laying off the old and taking on the new.

PRESIDENTIAL PROSPECTS OF THE OHIO MAN.

He In Greatly Admired as Citizen's Jurist and Statesman, But Lead-Ing Protectionists Question Whether He is Sufficiently Sound in Their Economic Faith.

Events of an unusual character have conspired to project into the arena of public discussion the aspirations of Hon. William H. Taft for nomination as the Republican candidate for president of the United States. Fully 14 months prior to the assembling of the national convention Mr. Taft comes out in the open as a seeker after this great distinction. With almost equal openness the declaration is made that he is "the administration camildate.

In a recent issue of the Morning Call of Paterson uppears a significant letter from one of the foremost citi zens of New Jersey, Col. William Itar bour, chairman of the executive com mittee of the American Protective Tariff League, as follows:

'New York, April 29, 1907 .- To the Editor of the Call: in last Saturday's Call, under the heading, 'Tsft Boom in the State,' you printed an article that would lead the reader to suppose that Secretary Taft was the choice of the Republican party in New Jersey to succeed President Roose-

"If we are to continue to enjoy the prosperous lines to which we are entitled so long as our country is blessed with bountiful crops, the tarmust be let alone, and Mr. Taft must speak out on this great question, McKinley did and Vice President Fairbanks has, before visiting congressmen can hope to make many friends for Mr. Taft in the great mannfacturing state of New Jersey. TAFT'S HIGH HOPES pressing need of the hour was, under the circumstances, of questionable propriety. It was not what a good protectionist would have done.

That Col. Burbour in his letter to the Call has voiced the general view of protectionists we think is beyond question. His rank in the world of industry, ilnance and business, to gether with his official relation to ward the American Protective Tariff league and his many years of conspicuous identification with Republican politics in New Jersey, combine to give his declaration more than ordinsry significance. It is well that Secretary Taft's early and frank avow si of his presidential aspirations should be met by an equally early and frank avowal that If he is to stand well with protectionists he must declare himself a protectionist in terms of unnristakuble certainty. The next nonlinee of the Hepublican party for president of the United States is go ing to be a protectionist. Current de velopments along the line of concessions and relaxations all point that way. A rebound back to sane and consistent protectionism is certain to occur, and it will be due in 1908

WHOLE IDEA IS WRONG.

State Department Errs in Effort to Revise Tariff.

When even Democratic newspapers deprecate invasions across the border line which separates the respective powers and functions of the legislative and executive branches of our government, the situation takes on a serious aspect. The new York American has no love for the protective tariff system, but it gravely questions whether that system can or ought to be changed by an edict of the secretary of state without the concurrence of congress. In a well considered and ably written editorial in the American of May 2 the conclusion is resched

"This method of deal ng with a matter of national magnitude is wrong and dangerous. It threstens disturb ance to our whole foreign trade."

This presupposes the truth of the reports that In the new dicker with thermany the spirit and intention of the Dingley turiff law have been subverted to an extent that whit revolutionize customs methods of appraise ment and collection l'infortunatily the supposition turns out to be eorrect Our gifted state department has for the time being taken over the authority to revise the tariff whedules downward.

THREATENING TROPICAL CY CLONE.

lteferring to the proposed transfer of the tariff making prerogative from the United States congress to the export - and expert-undervaluers of Germany, the Bulletin of the American fron and Steel Association remarks: "if the reader will compare the concessions made to tiermany with the forecast made by the correspondent of the American Economist he will see that our government has shaucelessly yielded to the German demand that not the true value of German exports to this country, but the value placed upon them by the exporters is to be the guide to our customs officials in assessing duties. When did congress give to the president the authority to set aside and absolutely nullify the plain provisions of our tariff sched-

The practical repeal of the customs administrative sections of the Dingley law is accomplished if the reported concessions are earried cut. Congress has explicitly iaid down certain rules for the ascertainment of the values of imports. If the state department sets aside these rules so that German exporters and not United States appraising officials may determine such valnes, are not the power and authority of congress in effect usurped? It is more than possible that this question will be brought up in congress.

Have Kept Things Steady. "Thia is no time for stand-satiers."

The foregoing is one of the recent declarations of George P. Hummer. the Democratic candidate for congress in the Fifth district. This sarcastic favor repeal of the Dingley bill or any drastic tariff changes, has been repeated from time to time for sever al past years. These years bave been the best this country has ever known Doubtless he honestly believed it to liad it not been for the positions held be true when he said that Republican by the so-called "stand-patters" the without delay. Review Methods.

Map Review.—Use a map which ineludes Psiestine, Egypt and Mesopotamis if you have none, copy one from a teacher's Hible, in rough outline, on a large sheet of paper or a blackboard. Provide circles of cardboard marked "Ja," "Jo," and "Mo" Get the class to pin these upon the places where Jacob, Joseph and Moses lived or visited. For Jacob these will be successively Beersheba, Bethel, Haran, Penuel, Hebron; for Joseph, Hebron, Dothan, Tanis or Heliopolis, for Moses Memphis or Tanks, Heilopolis, the land of Midian, Horeb, Memphia agnin, the land of Goshen, Etham, the Red sea. The scholars will take turns fastening on these circles, and as each is put in place something will be told about the event that occurred at that When the class are able to place these circles correctly, removing them and replacing ibem several times, then take strings, a different color for each of the three characters, and get the scholars to stretch them from one pin to another, to represent the journeys taken by each.

The Three Heroes Review .- Each scholar will be asked, a week in ad vance, to choose one of the three heroes of the quarter's lessou-lacub. Joseph or Moses-and prepare a fiveminute or three-minute essay upon him, to be read the next Sunday. The teacher, of course, will see to it that each hero is treatest in about the same number of essays.

The Four Countries Raview .-- Divide the class into groups, each group to study together for this review. There will be four groups each to study one of the four countries which our quarter's lessons have entered-Causan, Mesopolamia, Egypt and the land of Midian. Each group will be prepared to tell what events of the quarter occurred in its country, and of how that country influenced the progress of the Hebrew history.

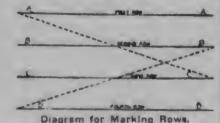

The Large Problems Review,-This form of review is best adapted to adult classes. It will consist of a series of essays or lalks on the following topics: Steps in the development of the Hebrews as a nation. Steps in the development of the Hebraus' knowleige of God. How these lessons if justrate God's overruling of the mistakes and sins of men. Proof of the authenticity of these narratives. Lessona of the quarter's study for modern times. Chief lessons of the quarter for the individual Christian. Some of these topics may hest be treated by a general discussion.

MARKING ROWS.

Unique Method Followed hy an Ohio Gardener.

The old saying, "More crops grow in crooked than in straight rows, may find favor with some growers, but eelery growers get best results from straight rows, Straight rows look more workmanlike and in cuitivating, bianching, and harvesting straight eclery rows are a necessity. To enable one man to mark out straight rows in the quickest possible way, we stretch two strong cotton linea, which costs us about 25 cents apiece, where the first two rows are to be, my three feet apart.

From a garden drill we remove all the seeding attachments and run the drill wheels over the first line from a to a. Itefore running back on see ond line to to b) we put the stake of line one from a to c. When we arrive at b, stake of line one is moved from a to c, which puts the line in position for marking the third row. llefore running the wheel on the third row from e to e, stake of line two at b is moved to d. When arrlving at e, stake at b is moved to d. which puts line two in position for the fourth row, etc.

For long rows, continues the writer in thrange Judd Farmer, we tose one measuring stick at each end of the rows and one in the middle. The middie stick is pushed in the ground against the line to prevent the wind from displacing the line. When we I fant day after day we do not take up the lines at night, but simply loosen one end to prevent their breaking from shrinkage. The time to wind up the lines would cost far more than they are worth. We can better afford to buy new lines, say every two 3 PATH

BLACK LOCUST.

It Supplies the Best-Lasting Post Timber to Be Found.

Itlack locust is one of the most persistent deciduous trees that we have to reproduce itself from the roots, and hence it is esemblal that one study this particular variety so as to know the right time to ent it if it is to be killed at the root. Untibing out the trees and cutting them down at different seasons of the year has been tiled If you want the timber to last long in the ground locust should be eut in August or September, but if you desire to kill the trees they should be cut in July and then in September the stumps should be peeled. The next spring an occasional sprout will show from the roots. These will luch in districter, have to be treated the same as you would weeds to get rld of them. The black locust, says, Farmers' Tribune, is one of the best lasting post timbers we have and should be planted out en the prairie farms more than it is for this one item of post timber. We do not think it will just equal to the sauge orange, but It is equal to red cedar and can be produced on ground at a much lower price than we have to pay for posts at the hunber yard.

PRUNE NOW

it may be all right to advise pruning whenever your knife is sharp, but really the best time is during May and June for during these months trees make their anickest and most vigorous growth, and the wounds made by pruning will heal quicker now than at any other season of the year. The quicker the wound heals the better or mycelium, infecting these spots of for the tree. Many old horticulturists say, prime when the leaves are as big as squirrels' cars. If pruning is done before this time the wound is apt to "bleed," and will not heal so readily. If large limbs are taken off paint the stubs so that they will not dry out and erack open. Here is where many make a blunder, says indiana Farmer. They leave too much stub in the first place, and it is probably split down one side. Hefore the wound is healed. over this stump is cracked and decay sets in. While you are at it do n good, clean job, and sharp knives and

Eating More Fruit.

Speaking of the future possibilities of orchard products an old nurseryman says: "Where a dollara' worth of fruit was consumed ten years ago, acter of the lujury, should be sent to ten dollars' worth la wanted now. Unless all signs full, one hundred dollars' identification and recommendations worth will be required in ten years for their control.—U. S. Forestry I) at from now."

It's the Only Protection Against Diseases and Insects.

Plant diseases and insects are do ing so much damage to the orchards and gardens in Dkinhoma that it has become necessary to protect the plants by some artificial means, says a communication from the Okiahoma station. The method of destroying the disessed and wormy fruit and foliage is of great value if persistently earried out. This cannot be done in so thorough a manner, however, as to destroy all the diseases and insects present, and a few left over and those that will come from neighboring farms will produce a dangerous number next year. The cheapest and most practical method of protecting plants from diseases and insects ia spraying. The ideal method is to spray thoroughly and then destroy all diseased fruit, leaves and trash about the orchard and garden. Either method is good when used alone and the value of each is greatly increased their maternal grandmother were simiwhen used together.

in 1904 the damage in Ohio from this blight was apparently greater than in previous years. It was first noticed or French June peas which had been sown with oats as a forage erop on the experiment station farm. A close examination of the diseased plants showed that the stems had been attacked at many points, frequently as high as one and one-hali feet from the ground, though most severely near the ground, where the discase starts.

On the leaves were orbicular or oval dead spots one-eighth to one-half the pods grows through the husk into the seed. Frequently it grows entirely through the pod, forming similar spota on both sides. When the fungua grows into the seed, brown spots may be formed on the surface. in the worst cases half the surface is frequently discolored and the seed adheres to the pod. Those arens are much more striking on green colored peas, such as the Market Garden variety, than on the yellowish varieties, such as the Admiral.

Care of Spruce Plantation. The trees require no cuitlyntion after planting. Their great tolerance enables them to survive the shade of brush and weeds and eventually to overtop them. The grentest energy of the spruce is fire, which should be carefully excluded from plantations. Spruce stands should never be severely thinned, as the shallow root system renders the trees liable to be thrown hy the wind. This damage is especially great in exposed situations. Following years (winter and spring terms) give the information, culture and training necessary for a true teacher, and cover branches necessary for State certificate.

MUSIC, Singing (free), Reed Organ, Voice Culture, Piane, Theory, Band, may be taken as an extra in connection with any course. Small extra fees.

Expenses, Regulations, Opening Days.

Berea College is not a money-making institution. All the money received from students is paid out for their benefit, and the School expends on an average upon each student about fifty dollars a year more than he pays in. This great deficit is made up by the gifts of Christian and patriotic people who are aupporting Berea in order that it may train young men and women for lives of usefulness.

OUR SCHOOL IS LIKE A FAMILY, with careful regulations to protect the character and reputation of the young people. Our students come from the best families and are carnest to do well and improve. For any who may be sick the College provides doctor and nurse without extra

All except those with parents in Berea live in College buildings, and sssist in work of boarding hall, farm and shops, receiving valuable training, and getting pay according to the value of their labor. Except in winter it is expected that all will have a chance to earn as much as 35 cents a week. Some who need to earn more may, by writing to the Secretary before coming, secure extra employment so as to earn from 50 cents to

PERSONAL EXPENSES for clothing, laundry, postage, books, etc., vary with different people. Berea favors plain clothing. Our climate is the best, but as students must attend classes regardless of the weather, warm wraps and underclothing, umbrellas and everahoes, are necessary. The Co-operative Store furnishes books, toilet articles, work uniforms, umbrellas and other secessary articles at cost.

Living Expenses are really below cost. The College asks no rent for the fine buildings in which students live, charging only enough room rent to psy for cleaning, repairs, fuel, lights, and washing of bedding and towels. For table board, without coffee or extras, $1.35 a week in the fall, and $1.50 in winter. For room, furnished, fuel, lights, washing of bedding, 40 cents a week in fall and spring, 50 cents in winter, School Fees are two. First a "Dollar Deposit," as guarautee for return of room key, library books, etc. This is paid but once, and is returned when the student departs.

Second an "Incidental Fee" to help on expenses for care of school buildings, hospital, library, etc. (Students pay nothing for tuition or services of teachers—all our instruction is a free gift). The Incidental Fee for most students is $5.00 a term ($4.00 in lower Model Schools, $6.00 in courses with Latin, and $7.00 in Collegiate courses).

Payment must be in advance, incidental fee and room rent by the term, board by the month. Installments are as follows: For Winter Term (12 weeks)-First day, $17.00 (besides $1 deposit); 28th day, $6.00; 56th day, $6.00; total, $29. If paid all in For Spring Term (10 weeks) - First day, $14.40; 28th day, $5.40;

86th day, $2.70; total, $22.50. If paid all in advance, $22.09. The two terms together, paid for in advance, at a reduction of $2.50, making only $49.00.

Longer Winter Term, (16 weeka)—First day, $20.60; 29th day, $6.00; 56th day, $6.00; 84th day, $5.40; total, $38.00. If paid all in advance, $37.00.

Refunding. Students excused to leave before and of term receive back all they have advanced on board and room, except that no allowsuce is made for any fraction of a week, and a fee of fifty cents is charged for leaving the boarding hall and fifty cents for leaving a room in term time. There is no refunding of incidental fee.

It Pays to Stay. When you have made your journey and are well started in school it pays to stay as long as possible.

The First Day of winter term is January 2, 1907. For information or friendly advice, write to the Secretary, CRUSADE IS LED BY AMERICA AMONG HEADSTRONG POWERS.

DELEGATES WILL TAKE ADVANCED

Position in the Discussion and Treatment of the Second Article in Hagua Program.

Washington, June 10.—On the eve of the second Hague conference, which assembles next Saturday, the part played by America in bringing about the great international gathering and the nature of lostructions under which our delegates are to participate in the congress becomes matters of great interest.

Frequent postponements of the secand meeting and prolonged diplomatic wrangles over the subjects to be included in the program under which the conferen e will be conducted have in a measure obscured the beginnings of the movement for the reassembling of the conference, so that there is not, perhaps, general approciation of the important part played by the Washington government initiating the movement

For the fact is that America really caused the invitation to the aecoud Hague conference to be extended to the world though the document was actually issued later by the Russian government.

The germ of the idea was found in the meeting of the interparliamentary union at St. Louis two years ago. The resolution adopted, all urging an extension of the principle of settling international, disputes by arbitration were laid before President Roosevelt, who prepared a note addressed to our principal representatives abroad, directing them to sound the government to which they were accredited as to the desirability of reconvening the International conference at The flague.

The first order of importance, ac cording to the American view, is the proposal that improvements be made in the provisions of the existing convention relative to a peaceful settlement of international disputes as regards the court of arbitration and the International commission of inquiry, Instruction of the American delegates on this point are known to be explicit. They are to do everything in their power to influence the conference to enlarge the powers of the permanent Hague tribunal in dealing with arbitration cases; above all, the effort is to be made to briog more business before the tribunal.

American delegates will also take edvanced position in the discussion and treatment of the second article In the ilague program, namely, the additions to the isws and customs of war on land.
